Gettin' out in the world.

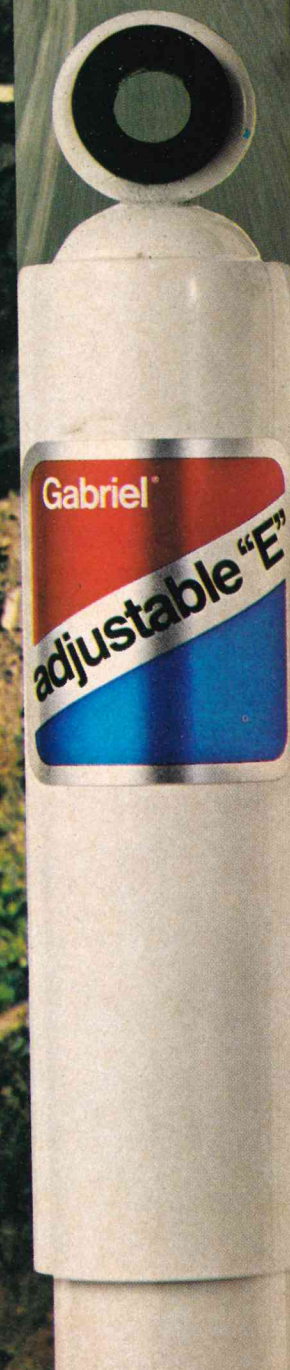

Gettin' out. It calls for Gabriel's Adjustable "E's" on your van to take you to the places you'll be going. The mountains. The beaches. Truck-ins and vankhanas.

Gabriel's Adjustable "E" is the biggest van shock on the road today, designed for the special kind of control vans call for. Its rugged 1½" piston and extra capacity give you a smooth and steady ride under all conditions. And Adjustable "E's" heavy-duty construction will stand up to the different kinds of driving you and your van will be doing. It's the van shock that's built to take it—and come back for more.

And because they're adjustable, you can set the control for the ride that's best for your van and your kind of driving. All you have to do is change the setting to either Regular, Firm, or Extra Firm.

Carrying heavy loads? Team up your Adjustable "E's" with Gabriel Hi Jackers in the rear. Hi Jackers lift up to 1000 lbs. to help give you the level ride and extra driving control that loaded vans need.

On the open road, in competition or around town, today's vans call for Gabriel's toughest shock, the Adjustable "E". And America's best selling air shock, Hi Jackers. Because without them... your customized van really isn't customized.

STEVE GARVEY: MR. CONSISTENCY

Steve Garvey says one of his primary goals as a baseball player is to be a consistent performer. The statistics show Steve Garvey achieves this goal with remarkable ability. Last season Steve batted .319 for the season. At Dodger Stadium his batting average was .319 with 104 hits and nine home runs. In road games Steve batted .318 with 106 hits and nine home runs. That's consistency. But it doesn't stop there. Against righthanded pitchers Steve batted .319. Against lefthanders he batted .317. And if you want to probe a little more into the statistics you will find Steve batted .318 before the All-Star Game and .320 after the All-Star Game. Okay, let's go a little more into this thing of consistency. Here's a look at Steve's hits month by month, April through September: 37, 34, 30, 41, 34 and 34. Perhaps the most remarkable statistics are Steve's totals for the 1975 season. He actually improved in several key areas and the comparison is with a 1974 season which gained him the honor of being selected the Most Valuable Player in the National League. Steve collected 210 hits last season, 10 more than his total of 1974 as he became the first player in Los Angeles Dodger history to put together two 200-hit seasons in a row. He increased his batting average from .312 to .319. "It was satisfying to maintain my level of efficiency when a number of the people who were MVP candidates in 1974 dropped off," says Steve. "I feel I had the type of year that was expected of me. I had to be more of a complete hitter because I didn't see as many good pitches. The most satisfying aspect is the hit total. People just don't realize how tough it is to get 200. To start with you just can't have too many hitless days."

STEVE GARVEY became the first Dodger to have two 200-plus hit seasons in a row since Babe Herman (right) accomplished the trick in 1929-30.

ON THE COVER

Dodger manager Walt Alston entered the 1976 season in the No. 8 spot in winning percentage for managers with 10 or more years of service. Walt also entered this season just 50 wins removed from becoming the sixth manager in history to win 2000 games. He has managed the Dodgers to four World titles and seven pennants.

Conn plays to win.

Whenever the Dodgers need a victory "Charge!" Helen Dell is ready. In fact, she's double ready with a Conn Electric Band mounted on top of her console organ.

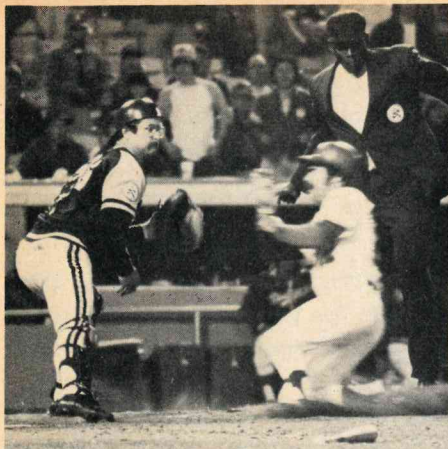

You might say the Conn Electric Band makes her a one-woman band. Because every sound imaginable, from wailing sirens to a rocket "blast-off", is right at her fingertips. And you don't have to be a pro like Helen. The Electric Band plays for everyone.

You can get a Conn Electric Band -- in console, organ-top or pro models. To see and hear the Electric Band, visit your local Conn Organ dealer listed in the Yellow Pages. Or stroll upstairs and watch Helen give the Dodgers a "Charge!"

A BASEBALL CENTURY

The First Hundred Years of the National League

Henry Berry, Bob Cook, Joe Falls Foreword by Roger Angell

This is the official history of the National League, from its birth in a New York hotel on Feb. 2, 1876, to the present. Baseball's all-time greats and near-great old-timers reminisce about the way it was; today's baseball notables talk about the current status of the game. Each of the 12 teams is featured along with a full-spread picture of the team's stadium and illustrations of the two players who are considered the best in each team's history—Aaron, Spahn for the Braves; Hornsby, Musial for the Cards; Mays, Mathewson for the Giants. Color and black-and-white paintings abound on the evolution of the uniforms and the refinement of bats, balls, and gloves over this 100-year period. Among countless other special features is a portfolio of probably the best and most unique action photographs of the players published to date.

THE OTHER TEXAN: DOUG RAU

Almost any Dodger fan could tell you Burt Hooton was the Dodgers' best pitcher after the All-Star break last year.

Burt was pretty tough to beat. In fact, he was unbeatable. His record after the All-Star break was 12-0 with a 1.82 earned run average.

However, if you want to go for a little quiz, who was the Dodgers' second most effective pitcher after the All-Star game?

Andy Messersmith? No. Don Sutton? No. Rick Rhoden? No again.

It was Doug Rau, by a mile.

Rau's record after the All-Star break was 7-2 with a 2.72 earned run average.

The Texas twosome of Hooton and Rau accounted for 19 of the Dodgers' 39 wins after the All-Star Game.

It was kind of old hat (Texas ten gallon size) for Rau to be overshadowed by Hooton. When they were in college, Hooton was the cover boy and No. 1 draft selection in the country after a great career at the University of Texas. Rau did his work at Texas A & M and the only All-America honors he won were in the scholastic field.

When you put a Texas Longhorn on the same athletic field with a Texas Aggie there's bound to be more than a little friction but put a couple of Texans on the same Major League team and the friction turns to friendship.

Winning 15 games and losing 9 in 1975, Rau showed he deserved his statistical ranking as one of the National League's top pitchers.

Rau completed his 1975 season by going 3-0 in September and he topped it off with a 14-0 shutout victory over San Diego. His September wins also included a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

Whereas the Dodgers were pleased with Doug's finish in 1975 they were, all things considered, thrilled by his start in 1976.

Doug won the Dodgers' first game of the season and he posted two of the team's first three victories. When he increased his record to 4-0 with a 3-1 win over St. Louis on May 2nd it gave him a streak of 10 victories in a row over two seasons.

Now in his fifth season as a Dodger, Doug has earned himself a role as a member of the starting rotation.

Last year he started 38 games for the Dodgers and only two pitchers in the National League — Andy Messersmith (40) and Carl Morton (39) of Atlanta — had more starts. Doug's 3.10 earned run average was the 11th best in the N.L.

Doug Rau had arrived. Of course, a Texan could have told you it was going to work out that way.

Oldtimers Game Features N.L. Centennial

DON DRYSDALE

DON NEWCOMBE

Three former Dodger greats — Don Drysdale, Don Newcombe and Babe Herman — were the first to accept invitations to participate in this year's Oldtimers Game at Dodger Stadium on Sunday, June 13.

The game will match former greats of the National League against ex-American League stars in that 1976 marks the 100th year of the N.L. and the 75th anniversary of the A.L.

The Dodgers have invited many of baseball's greatest stars to participate and they also asked their fans to submit names of players they would like to see.

Herman and Drysdale hold many of the Dodgers' all-time records. Herman holds Dodger season records for batting average (.393), slugging average (.678), runs (143), hits (241), most extra base hits (94) and most total bases (416).

Drysdale holds the Dodger season record for games started (42), and Dodger career records for victories (209), innings pitched (3432), strikeouts (2486) and shutouts (49).

Newcombe is the only player ever to win the Rookie of the Year Award (1949), Cy Young Award (1956) and Most Valuable Player Award (1956). He ranks among the top 10 Dodgers in wins, games started, complete games and shutouts.

The Inevitable Teac.

We have two basic requirements for every product we make — it must work well, and it must do so for a long time. The inevitable result of this philosophy in cassette recorder design is the 450.

It works well indeed: it has wow and flutter of less than 0.07% WRMS which is better than most reel to reel recorders. It has Dolby* with FM/Copy control, which lets you record Dolby broadcasts (or any other Dolby source) directly, or decode them for listening if your tuner doesn't have Dolby built in.

It has a host of other features and impressive specifications. We'd like you to know what they are, and we'd like you to hear the audible improvement they make.

A HERO'S WELCOME HOME — Joe Ferguson receives a hero's welcome at home plate after hitting a three-run homer against Cincinnati on May 18. Ferguson received an excited greeting from third base coach Tommy Lasorda, was then met by a welcoming committee at home plate and then entered the Dodger dugout as he received a standing ovation.

THE RETURN OF T.J.
— The Dodgers received early season encouragement with the pitching performance of Tommy John. John hadn't pitched since July of 1974 due to an injury to his left elbow but in his first two starts of 1976 he turned in good work against Atlanta and Houston and then he defeated Pittsburgh 7-1 in his first start at Dodger Stadium since 1974.

IT'S EASY TO KEEP SCORE

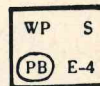

Baseball Shorthand, as used by the news media to render every game more enjoyable to baseball enthusiasts. All players are numbered and all plays recorded by symbols. For symbols and example of system, see below:

CODE NUMBER OF PLAYERS AS FOLLOWS

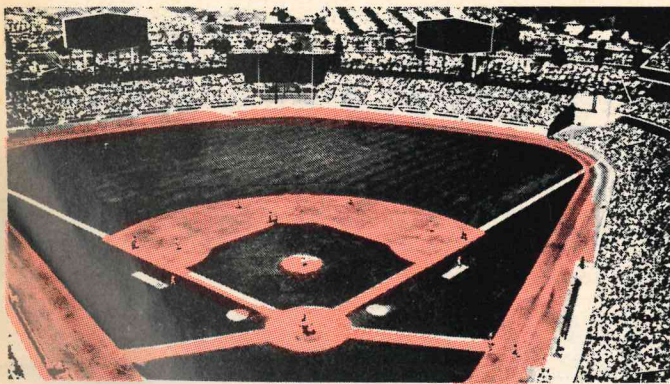

Pitcher	1	Second Baseman	4	Left Fielder	7
Catcher	2	Third Baseman	5	Center Fielder	8
First Baseman	3	Shortstop	6	Right Fielder	9

SYMBOLS FOR PLAYS

Single	—	Fielder's Choice	FC	Passed Ball	PB
Double	==	Hit by Pitcher	HP	Balk	BK
Triple	===	Wild Pitch	WP	Struck Out	K
Home Run	====	Stolen Base	S	Base on Balls	BB
Reached base on error	E	Sacrifice Hit	SH	Force Out	FO

The lower lefthand corner of the scoring block should be considered as home plate. Progress is counter-clockwise with progress to first base indicated in lower righthand corner, to second in upper righthand corner, to third in upper lefthand corner and to home in lower left. In example to left, batter reached first on an error by the second baseman, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball. It is convenient to encircle all runs as shown so that scoring plays may be seen at a glance.

BASEBALL IS FUN AGAIN FOR BILL BUCKNER

Baseball is fun again for Bill Buckner. It wasn't that way in 1975. "I couldn't run last year," says Buckner. "I couldn't throw. I couldn't hit."

"Other than that it was a good year. I did show up."

Bill Buckner isn't the type of player who gains satisfaction by showing up. He's a player who comes to play.

Buckner's play in 1975 was restricted after he suffered a severely sprained left ankle sliding into second base in a game against San Francisco at Dodger Stadium on April 18th.

The injury hampered Buckner throughout the season and he underwent surgery on the ankle in September.

Bill's average slipped to .243 after seasons in which he had batted .314, .275, .319 and .277.

This spring Bill batted .391 to lead the Dodgers and he was his old self again as he stole bases, turned singles into doubles and made running catches in the outfield.

From the start of the spring training period Bill was going at dare-devil speed.

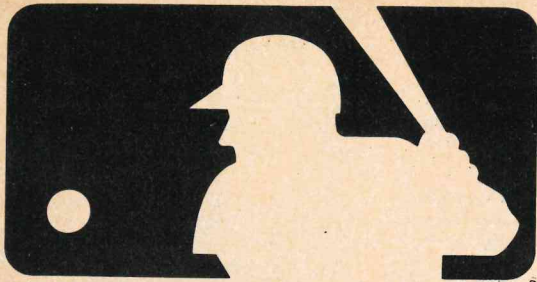

"I can't play my type of game worrying about a reinjury," says Bill. "I've got to go all-out to play my way. That's just my style. For me it's fun to play as hard as I can play."

Buckner's style of play has been impressive since his first year in professional baseball, with Ogden in 1968. He batted .344 to lead the Rookie League. The following season he batted .307 at Albuquerque and .315 at Spokane, earning a late season promotion to the Dodger squad.

Bill's Major League average entering last season was .292. It made his .243 mark rather difficult to accept.

With all of his problems in 1975, Buckner never lost his confidence.

"I'm swinging a lot better now and I really feel like I can hit .300," Bill said in early July. "But first I've got to hit .200."

THE KARL'S OF SHOE FAME SALUTES THE KARLS OF BASEBALL FAME

Karls have made contributions to mankind's greatest steps. So, Karl's Shoe Stores is happy to bring you this baseball fact sheet to introduce you the famous Karls who have contributed so much to baseball.

And remember, sports fans, the next time you need a pair of shoes, Karl's Shoe Stores are a step in the right direction.

Carl Hubell, king of the screwball, struck out Ruth, Gehrig, Foxx, Simmons and Cronin, in order, during the 1934 All Star game.

Carl Yastremski replaced Ted Williams, "The Splendid Splinter" after his retirement as the Boston Red Sox leading slugger.

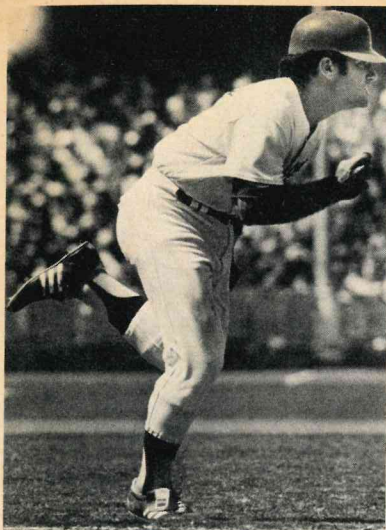

Carl Erskine of the Dodgers struck out 14 Yankees in one series game in 1953, setting a world record which was unbeaten until Sandy Koufax in 1963.

Carl Furillo, one of the "Boys of Summer" drove in the winning run during the 1959 playoff against Milwaukee. It was the only post-season playoff the Dodgers had ever won.

Karl Spooner set a still unequalled record by striking out 15 batters in his first major league start.

Karl's Shoes has gained a toehold on the feet of baseball fans everywhere!

KARL'S SHOES
WHERE FASHION COSTS LESS PER FOOT.

Only two other L.A. Dodgers ever had had 200 or more hits in a season—Tommy Davis (230) and Maury Wills (208), both in 1962.

In fact, the last time a Dodger player had two 200-hit seasons in a row came a quarter of a century ago (1929 and 1930) when both Babe Herman and Johnny Frederick accomplished the trick as Dodgers.

Steve's performance has improved each year. In his first full season as a Dodger (1971) Steve had 51 hits. He increased this mark to 79 in 1972, 106 in 1973, 200 in 1974 and 210 last season. His batting average during this period has increased in steady fashion: .227, .269, .304, .312 and .319.

And there has been great improvement defensively with Steve winning Gold Glove awards the past two years.

"One's constant desire in baseball must be to do better in your next try," says Steve. "If you hit .320 one year you try to be at least .321 the next year. If you hit 20 homers you should want at least 21 the next year."

"Once you let yourself feel you can sit back and you tell yourself 'I'll take this every year' is when you get a rude awakening," says Steve.

STEVE YEAGER A STARTER, AT LAST

STEVE YEAGER and his fiancée,
Gloria Gaione.

Steve Yeager never enjoyed a Spring as he enjoyed the Spring of 1976.

For the first time in a 10-year professional baseball career he had an assignment as a starting catcher.

He was happy and relaxed. And he was in love.

Spring training seldom is an easy time for a baseball player. It's never an easy time for a reserve catcher, who finds himself catching batting practice most of the day and taking a tough physical beating.

It has taken Steve Yeager a decade to emerge as the Dodgers' starting catcher but at the same time he has the satisfaction of emerging as one of baseball's finest defensive catchers.

Steve took over as the Dodgers' No. 1 catcher in 1975 and he ended the year with career highs in hits (103) and runs batted in (54). He also hit 12 home runs to match his Major League high set in 1974.

Perhaps the most significant statistic, however, is the fact Steve's 135 games played and 452 at bats represented career high marks.

"Throughout my career it always seemed there was somebody in front of me," says Steve. "Only once prior to last year did I ever play in more than 100 games."

Steve, however, worked hard and waited for his opportunity to play. And that opportunity arrived in full force last season when Joe Ferguson was injured and Steve was left to carry a workload which resulted in his catching 736 of the Dodgers' final 759 innings after July 1.

The love of Steve's life is Gloria Gaione, a singer who appeared on the Andy Williams Show. "Gloria has given me a new lifestyle, a new attitude toward myself and toward other people," says Steve.

The only people who might not have noted the change are opponents of the Dodgers. To them Steve Yeager is the same guy — an alert and tough catcher.

TR7. IT'S OUT TO STEAL THE AMERICAN ROAD

ENGINE: 4 cylinder, over-head cam, electronic ignition.
STEERING: Rack and pinion. Race-type 13" steering wheel.
BRAKES: Power assisted, front disc.
PRICE: $5,649 manufacturer's suggested retail price P.O.E. Inland transportation, local taxes and preparation charges extra.
OPTIONS: Air conditioning, AM, AM/FM, or AM/FM stereo cassette.

First consider what you see: a bold, slashing wedge taken from the Grand Prix racetracks of the world; the dashing shape of things to come.

Now consider what you don't see: the edge of the wedge knifes through the wind, forcing the front down for solid control. The slippery silhouette cuts drag. Enhances power. Adds miles to the gallon (29.9 mpg on the road; 20.7 in city streets according to official U.S. Government tests).

Consider sensation: a swift, nimble, taut two-seater that holds the road as if it had hands, that zooms from zero to sixty in an average 10.5 seconds.

Consider comfort: shut your eyes and you're riding a luxury sedan (sports cars were never like this). You enter the cockpit without acrobatics, sit and stretch in voluptuous space.

Consider the overriding sense of it: unlike the new breed of complex, fragile sports cars, TR7 emerges a beautifully simple and simply beautiful machine; a triumph of dependability priced at only $5,649. It's a steal.
